Today I took a walk. It's best not to walk alone. So I went with my dad.

We walked through the tall grass of the meadow. We saw many kinds of butterflies and flowers. It was a fine day for a walk because it was warm and sunny.

A little later, it started to rain. I thought our walk would be spoiled, and we would have to go inside. I felt sad.

Suddenly it stopped raining. Dad smiled, but I didn't know the reason. Then I saw the rainbow. I smiled, too. Dad knew the rainbow would cheer me up.

Exert from story:

"If frog wants to be alone," said Turtle, "why don't you leave him alone?"

"Maybe you are right," said Toad.

"Maybe Frog does not want to see me. Maybe Frog does not want me to be his friend anymore."

"Yes, maybe," said Turtle as he swam away.
